STRIKING CONCRETE WORKERS STILL OUT OF THE FOLD.

Organizer Feltman, of Central Labor Union, Has Views-Barbers Progressing-Labor News Notes.

The proposed union of concrete workers of the city was not organized last night. A meeting was scheduled for the Bricklayers' Hall at 8 o'clock, but so few of the workmen appeared that the meeting was abandoned. The men who struck because of the denial of an increase of wages by the Western Construction Company are still at loggerheads with their employes and the superintendent of the construction company has stated that the refusal is the final answer of the company.

John Feltman, organizer of Central Labor Union, and also for the American Federation of Labor, said last night that he would not organize into a union the men who are on strike. He says he will bring the matter before the Central Labor Union and state his position, which will be firm. against the C. L. U. interfering between strikers and their employers when the men who are not members of labor unions. Feltman says he does not believe it is right to meddle in the affair as it stands. He says he is perfectly willing and will try to organize the concrete workers who are at present employed and will also try to persuade the strikers after they are back at work that there are advantages in unionism, but he will refuse to organize the strikers at present.

Feltman intends to bring the matter up before the Central Labor Union to-morrow night, and if he does there may be a discussion of the question. The new union was proposed by President George Custer, of the C. L. U., and an invitation issued to the strikers to be present at the meeting. It is expected that Custer will explain his views on the subject, and, as opinion is divided among the leaders in the labor movement in the city, the discussion will Fairview, $800. of more than ordinary interest to the delegates.

WOODWORKERS' UNION.

Great Growth Noted Since the Decision of Referee Downey.

The five local unions of the Amalgamated Woodworkers have made much progress since the decision of Referee Downey, of the arbitration commission from the woodworkers and carpenters, defining the jurisdiction of the Carpenters' Union as ending at the factory doors was rendered, according to their business agent, Matt O'Mara. The growth has amounted to about 80 per cent., O'Mara says, and an example is given in local No. 155, which has increased its membership sixty names during the last five weeks. The other locals have made correspondingly large increases, and O'Mara estimates that 200 Indianapolis workmen have joined the Woodworkers' Union since Downey decided to which union they properly belonged.

The hardwood halshers have made a good showing during that time. The cabinet makers and machine men have heretofore been thoroughly unionized, but among the finishers it has been hard to stir up a union sentiment. Since the recognition of the union by several large furniture factories in the city the finishers have discovered the benefits of organization, and the membership of this branch of the woodworking trades union has been increased about 10

The prosperity of the woodworkers is not confined to Indianapolis alone, O'Mara says. He represents District Council No. 10 of the Amalgamated Woodworkers of America, and among his duties is that of organizing small towns in Indiana, O'Mara says that he has several unions that are ready to apply for charters, and there are several other unions proposed in the State. In correspondence with Thomas I. Kidd, secretary of the woodworkers' organization, O'Mara has learned that the growth of the woodworkers throughout the United States has been much the same as in Indianapolis.

UNIONIZING THE BARRERS. Business Agent Marmarowsky Says

the Skies Are Bright. Business Agent Marmarowsky, of the Barbers' Union, has prepared a list of about twenty barber shops which he will ask the Central Labor Union to declare unfair to union labor at to-morrow night's meeting. The proprietors of the twenty shops have signified an unwillingness to permit their men to join the union and have antagonized the growth of the union. Marmarowsky says the union will fight all boss barbers who fight the union, and that the barbers will ask their fellow-laborers in other trades to assist them. No fight is being made on the so-called 5-cent barber shops, as the union in ignoring their existence signifies the disdain in which such barbers are held. The Barbers' Union continues to grow and with the assurances received from down-town barber-shop owners Marmarowsky is confident of a membership of 300 before long, and when that number is reached practically a majority of the working barbers of the city will have become unionized. The Date Inconvenient.

Secretary Thomas Atkinson, of the Sc clety of Carpenters, has telegraphed General President Huber, of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, that May 4 will be an inconvenient date for the assembling of the two committees of their respective unions who are to arbitrate the questions of jurisdiction that have provoked a serious labor difficulty in York city. Atkinson has not signified that the place suggested by Huber for meeting -Indianapolis-is agreeable to him and neither has he disapproved of it. Secretary Frank Duffy, of the carpenters' union, is in New York and he will act for Huber in the negotiations preceding the conference recommended by the American Feder-

Labor Day Celebration.

Most of the trades unions affiliated with the Central Labor Union have named members of the Labor day committee and they will meet next Sunday in Morrison Hall, Monument place, to organize. The campaign for the presidency of the committee is becoming active, and chief among the candidates for the distinction are Frank Beadle, formerly sergeant-at-arms of the Central Labor Union, Roscoe Barnett, of the Painters' Union, and Thad S. Gurley, of Carpenters' Union, No. 281. Gurley is at present vice president of the committee by Henry Friedman, who so far is the only

Paper Hangers' Union. The new paper hangers' union recently organized in the city has already more than 100 members, the majority of them at work under contracts from the various wall paper houses. The contractors genhave signed the scale of wages proposed by the paper hangers and the union it is thought will be a successful one. The paper hangers were formerly affiliated with the painters' unions, but recently a classification of themselves was deemed advisable and the organization was perfected.

Central Labor Union. The regular bi-weekly meeting of Central Labor Union will be held in the hall at Alabama and Washington streets to-morrow night. There is no special order for the meeting and nothing of importance is expected to develop. A report on the strikes which have progressed in the trades that have delegates in the body is expected and some comment on the Hanna-Parry speeches, statements and interviews, s expected from members of the body.

Charge Against "Bill" Newton. Capt. Martin Hyland, of the police department, went to Terre Haute last night to get "Bill" Newton, a man under arrest there who is wanted for horse stealing. Captain Hyland will return with the prisoner to-day. Newton is wanted here for the
